

The Faculty of Science of the University of Fribourg/Switzerland (Department of Medicine)

invites applications for a tenured position of

Associate Professor in Movement and Sport Sciences

The selected candidate will have a record of successful independent research in Sport and Movement Sciences, preferentially in domains related to Motor Control and/or Motor Learning. She/He is expected to establish a funded research programme and to be responsible of a Bachelor Program in Sport and Movement Sciences, with teaching to students in Sport Sciences, Biomedicine and Biology.

More information about the position, the application procedure (deadline 31.05.2008) as well as the Department, common facilities and study programs are available at www.unifr.ch/science/positions/.